Mt. Yosomiyama Course Trail Map
Footpath
In winter (from Nov. to Apr.) Some parts of the routes are closed without notice.
Mt. O-Usu
Usu-shinzan
Mt. Nishiyama
Mt. Konpira
More than 40 craters were formed. Some of them are now unrecognizable.
Water vapor at approx. About 50°C still comes out of the volcanic vents even 100 years after the 1910 eruption!
Volcanic vents
Gigantic stone
Craters
Compare the current situation with pictures taken in 1930.
This is a must-see!
It is almost 100 years since the 1910 eruption. Many trees have grown in the resulting craters.
There are many wildlife animals and plants around the course. Protect our precious nature.
Learn a little about the history of Mt. Usu.
Mt. Usu Eruption History
Crater observation trail
10min
Craters on both sides!
Crater
5min
To the top of Mt. Yosomi
Uphill slope
Hot spring source area
Wide path
Strip road
15~20min
Downhill
Colorful deciduous leaves in autumn.
20min
Stone stairs
Uphill slope
Stairs up
Ko-Usu Migi no Kawa River
Gifts from volcano
Learn a little about hot springs.
Craters
Sobetsu Spa
Strip road
Stone path
15~20min
Downhill
5min
2min
Lake Toya and Nakajima can be seen through the trees.
8min
To the top of Mt. Yosomi
Pictures from 1955
Mt. Yosomi Observatory
This is the summit (251.5
2min
1min
Sobetsu Spa
Mt. Yosomiyama
• The mountain was named in recognition of its year of formation – 1910 (known as Meiji 43 in the Japanese calendar system; the name Yosomi is written using the same Chinese characters as the number 43 in Japanese).
• The mountain is also known as Meiji-Shinzan.
• Hotspring was born because of this eruption.
Nishimaruyama
Date of formation unknown
Narrow path along a flood control channel
Uphill slope
Stairs down
3min
Kazan Kaido (Volcano Route)
Lake Toya Waterfront Trail II
This sign is a landmark of the trail.
Sobetsu Town
Toyako Town
1977year eruption exhibit.
8min
Hotel Toya Kawanami
20min
Bus stop
Toya Sunpalace
Sobetsu
Toyako
Public parking lot
Toya Onsen Hotel
Footbath for dogs
Bus stop
Bus stop
Avenue of cherry trees
Lake Toya