

*The times listed for each course are rough estimates of the time it would take for an adult to walk them. Start your walk with plenty of time.

Toya-Usu UNESCO Global Geopark Walking Map

Sangaidaki Falls Walk

A moment of comfort in rich nature

Sangaidaki Park is a site of spring lush green and autumn foliage. Walk around the park and the neighbouring Totem Pole Hill. You can find three-step waterfalls, the origin of the name Sangaidaki, flow on 27 million-year-old river bedrocks, which are the oldest geological resource in the Geopark. The view should give you a sense of the earth history.

